SHILTON SOLAR FARM REFUSED

ENTRIES are now being accepted for the first Pretty Muddy charity race in Charlbury, raising money for Cancer Research UK.

The women-only event will see them take on a 5km obstacle course, getting caked in mud along the way.

Organisers are hoping for more than 3,500 women to take part on June 27.

Plans for 40,000-panel solar farm near Carterton rejected

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

PLANS to install more than 40,000 solar panels on land in Shilton have been turned down after councillors decided they would have too big an impact on the landscape.

West Oxfordshire District Council's Lowlands Area Planning Sub-Committee refused planning permission for energy company Ecotricity to build a solar farm adjacent to Hen 'n' Chick Lane on Monday.

A total of 43,000 panels, three metres tall, would have been installed on the site, generating enough electricity to power almost 2,400 homes a year.

Despite being recommended for approval by council officers, the committee voted against the plans.

Warwick Robinson, chairman of the committee, said: "It contravenes quite a few policies.

"Members were not happy with the impact on the landscape and they're not happy there would have been three solar fields in close proximity to Shilton, so those were the principal concerns."

Shilton Parish Council objected to the application prior to the meeting, with concerns of damage caused to Ladburn Lane if it was used by construction traffic to access the site.

Council chairman Malcolm Linney said the use of a nearby road as access for a separate solar farm development at Stonelands Farm, about half a mile north of Shilton, left it in poor condition.

He added: "I think people, having seen the mess at Stonelands, certainly wouldn't entertain a similar scenario along Ladburn Lane.

"If residents parked their cars along Ladburn Lane, which they do, you wouldn't get a lorry through anyway, so I could see a problem along there.

"We believe the developers will go for an appeal, so we're going to need to do some work to defend that."

A statement from Ecotricity said: "We were very surprised by the decision to turn down the planning application for Shilton solar park.

"The expert planning officers from West Oxfordshire District Council recommended the application for approval, which matched our planning assessment.

"We will await the decision notice, which should hopefully outline the reasons for the refusal, before we make any further decision on our part."

Pledge to tackle sexual exploitation

CHILD protection agencies across the county have come together to promise they will do all they can to stop the sexual abuse of children, amid calls for an inquiry into child sexual exploitation (CSE) in Oxfordshire.

Oxfordshire County Council, Thames Valley Police (TVP), health services and the Oxfordshire Safeguarding Children Board unveiled their 'CSE promise' in Banbury on Monday.

It comes after the publication of the serious case review into CSE investigation Operation Bullfinch earlier this month, which heavily criticised services for not acting faster to uncover sexual abuse of children in Oxford.

Oxford's MPs Andrew Smith and Nicola Blackwood have also called for an independent inquiry to be held to find out what went wrong and who is accountable for the failings.

County council leader Ian Hudspeth said: "As the recent serious case review into child sexual exploitation in Oxfordshire has shown, we got things badly wrong in the past.

"So we want to speak directly to children and reassure them that child protection agencies in Oxfordshire are looking out for them and will leave no stone unturned to tackle this despicable crime.

"I hope that through this formal gesture, we are able to continue to raise awareness of the dangers of CSE as well as sending a strong message to children that we are looking, listening and ready to take action."

The pledge sets out their commitment to stop CSE and to respond as children should expect from professionals if they think they have been abused.

TVP chief inspector Julian Collinson said: "It is really important that the police and our partners speak directly to children about this insidious criminality.

"To any child who might be at risk of sexual exploitation, we want to say outright that we will support you, listen to you and prosecute those seeking to do you harm."

So far 10 people have been jailed for offences relating to child sexual abuse in Operation Bullfinch – Kamir Jamil, Akhtar Dogar, Anjum Dogar, Assad Hussain, Mohammed Karrar, Bassam Karrar, Zeeshan Ahmed, Mustafa Ahmed, Bilal Ahmed and Tilal Mahdi.

Oxford Covered Market drug dealer jailed

A 22-YEAR-OLD drug dealer has been jailed for six years after being caught selling drugs in Oxford's Covered Market.

Wakas Khan, of Furlong Close in Blackbird Leys, was sentenced to six years and three months in prison at Oxford Crown Court on Monday.

Khan had been arrested on October 30 last year when officers saw him dealing drugs in the Covered Market.

He pleaded guilty on the first day of his trial to possession with intent to supply crack cocaine and heroin.

Investigating officer Police Constable Tom Mason from St Aldate's police station said: "Drug dealing will absolutely not be tolerated in Oxford and we are committed to tackling this type of offence.

"I am pleased that this man is off the streets of Oxford and will have time to reflect on his actions from behind bars."

Milk float theft

OXFORD: Four milk floats were stolen from the Dairy Crest depot in Towles Mill, Abingdon Road, in the early hours of Sunday morning.

Between 2am and 8am, thieves broke into the depot and stole keys to the milk floats, using one of them to ram the security gates to escape.

One has since been recovered from Colley Wood in Kennington, with the other three still missing.

PC Stuart McLaren said: "I would urge business owners to make sure that their sites are secure, and report any suspicious activity to police."

Call 101 with information.

Fatal house fire

FARINGDON: A woman in her 50s died after a fire at a house in Little Coxwell on Tuesday morning.

Police were called to Manor Farm Close at 6.45am.

The woman was taken to Great Western Hospital, Swindon, where she later died.

The incident is not being treated as suspicious, and a file is in the process of being prepared for the coroner.

The woman's next of kin have been informed.

Best for jobs

SOUTH OXON: The Henley constituency has the lowest levels of unemployment in the country, figures have revealed.

Data released by the House of Commons Library state there were 269 people claiming Job Seekers Allowance in the constituency in February, 183 less than the same period last year.

It equates to 0.6 per cent of the economically active population aged 16 to 64.

Henley MP John Howell said: "This is fantastic news, well done to everyone."

Tackling bad behaviour

RESIDENTS and businesses in Oxford are being asked to give their views on dealing anti-social behaviour in the city centre.

Oxford City Council has launched a consultation to decide if implementing 'public spaces protection orders' would be effective in reducing anti-social behaviour.

The orders ban certain activities or behaviours, such as persistent begging, urinating or cycling on certain roads, from a particular area.

And the city council is asking people to answer a survey asking which aspects of anti-social behaviour they would like to see reduced and controlled in Oxford.

Bob Price, leader of the council, said: "These are difficult issues but they make a huge impact on our perceptions of the city and everyone has a view on them.

"We're keen to enhance the look and feel of the city so that it remains a place that everyone can enjoy, but anti-social behaviour can spoil the experience for residents, businesses and visitors.

"Following this consultation we will be considering what type of PSPO would be most helpful and setting out the standards of behaviour and activities that are covered by the order."

To take the survey, go to oxford.gov.uk/abssurvey by March 31.

Work on Grove Airfield could start next year

• The masterplan for Grove Airfield

A 14-YEAR wait for building work to start on the 2,500-home Grove Airfield development could be over by spring next year.

The date was confirmed on Tuesday by developers Taylor Wimpey, who are spearheading the project alongside housebuilders Persimmon Homes.

The site was first identified for development by the council in 2001 and a public consultation on the plans launched in 2003.

A Taylor Wimpey spokesman said: "We are hoping to start building work to deliver much-needed new homes to the area in spring 2016."

Planning permission for the build - including two primary schools, a secondary school, community centre and shopping area on the 141-hectare site – was granted in December 2013.

Oxfordshire county councillor for Grove and Wantage, Jenny Hannaby, said: "The village has been on hold for all these years.

"This has gone on for 14 years, it has been the most upsetting and frustrating time for residents – because of the time factor, and uncertainty."

She added: "All our schools, roads, and infrastructure all depend on the development, everything we have been promised."

Vale of White Horse District District Council's planning committee was discussing the plans last night as the Guardian went to press.

John 'unnoticed for three hours'

A MAN who disappeared from the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford on Sunday was not noticed as missing for more than three hours, his daughter has claimed.

John Howe, 67, from Milton Keynes, was recovering from an operation on his brain when he was reported missing to police by hospital staff at 8.15pm.

His daughter Jenny Long said that CCTV shows her father leaving the hospital at 4.37pm – more than three and a half hours earlier.

John was found safe and well shortly after 11am the following morning 30 miles away in Reading – almost 15 hours after his disappearance was reported.

He suffered a brain aneurism six years ago, and is thought to have been confused when he left the hospital wearing unsuitable clothing for cold outdoor weather.

"They've done the operation, cut open his head again and relieved all the fluid, and then they've obviously just left him," said Jenny.

"The last time they checked him was 12.30pm, and when they looked on CCTV they've got him leaving the hospital at 4.37pm, so that's a four hour gap.

"He's got short-term memory loss, and they're supposed to be keeping checks on him."

However a statement from Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust, who operate the John Radcliffe, said that John was missing "for no more than an hour" before he was noticed as gone, with their last observation of him recorded at 6pm.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

It added that security searched the hospital for around an hour without success before police were called.

Catherine Stoddart, chief nurse at the trust, said: "I am very pleased that the patient who had gone missing from our hospital has been found safely.

"Our staff worked with Thames Valley Police and Mr Howe's family to offer them support and to share our CCTV footage to help track his movements.

"The trust will be having an investigation into how Mr Howe was able to go missing.

"The investigation will also look at the processes that were followed once it was established he was missing so that we can learn from this for the future."

• John Howe, who went missing from the John Radcliffe Hospital, was found the next day

New leagues

OXFORD: A new six-a-side football league is set to kick off in Oxford over the summer.

Organised by Leisure Leagues, games will run every Wednesday evening from May 27 onwards at Oxford City Football Club, with free shirts and shorts for those taking part.

For more details or to register a team, go to leisureleagues.net.

Men charged

OXFORD: Two men have been charged with the attempted robbery of John Gowing Jewellers in the Covered Market.

Lee Pullen, 32, of Saxton Road in Abingdon, and Paul Anderson, 33 of Abingdon Road in Oxford, were charged last Friday and Sunday respectively.

It relates to the botched robbery of the jewellers in March 2013, which saw robber Clint Townsend, 33, suffer a heart attack as the raid took place. He later died.

Pullen and Anderson will appear at Oxford Magistrates' Court on March 27.

Travel plan

OXON: A consultation on the county council's proposed transport plan is due to finish on April 2.

Mass transit solutions including extending the Park and Ride network and introducing cycle 'super routes' are among the proposals being considered.

Appeal dropped for West Way proposals

CONTROVERSIAL plans for a large-scale development of Botley's West Way Shopping Centre have been axed, after the developer dropped its appeal into the project's refusal.

Last Friday Doric Properties withdrew their appeal into Vale of White Horse District Council's decision to refuse the £100million project, after its planning committee unanimously voted down the proposals in December last year.

The plans had been opposed by residents and community groups for being too large and for the loss of the Elms Parade, Field House and vicarage buildings.

And developers Mace, who have taken over the project from Doric Properties, have said they will be submitting a new smaller-scale scheme for the shopping centre.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Matthew Barber, leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, said: "The withdrawal of the planning appeal is a great step forward.

"The needs of local people are paramount to the success of any development so it's vital that they are involved in the process and are able to feel positive about any changes that will happen in their area.

"We can now move forward together in a spirit of collaboration to bring about a redevelopment of West Way that local people can be really proud of."

Previous plans proposed building a supermarket, cinema, hotel, gym, ships, 50 flats and 525 student rooms on the site.

• An artist's impression of the now scrapped plans for the West Way Shopping Centre

Mace is now working on a new scheme, which they say will exclude any redevelopment of Elms Parade, Field House and the vicarage.

Chris Church, co-chair of campaign group West Way Community Concern, said: "This is a wonderful victory for the people of Botley.

"Now we will continue to work to ensure that any new development is what Botley wants, and that it meets the needs of our community for the years ahead."

Huw Griffiths, development director at Mace, added: "Mace would like to thank the local community and the councils for their collaborative and open approach over the past few weeks.

He continued: "We are pleased with the progress we have made together to address many of the concerns with the West Way development plans.

"We look forward to working on a replacement scheme that better meets the needs of the Botley community."

River searches fail to find missing Emily

• Missing: Emily Stiff

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

POLICE have been searching a stretch of the River Thames in Oxford over the last week as they attempt to find missing Oxford woman Emily Stiff.

Emily, 22, was last seen at around 11pm on February 24 in the Botley area.

Last Thursday officers conducted a search of the river from Donnington Bridge to the Botley Road Bridge and the East Street junction, before continuing their investigation at Osney Lock on Monday.

Both failed to find any sign of Emily, and no more river searches have been conducted since.

Police spokesperson Hannah Williams said: "On Monday, our officers from the specialist search and recovery team were diving into the River Thames as part of the missing person inquiry into Emily Stiff.

"The search proved inconclusive but enquiries are ongoing to locate Emily."

A statement from Emily's family read: "We are very grateful to Thames Valley Police for all their support.

"They have made strenuous efforts to return Emily safely to us and we are confident that every avenue is being explored.

"We would ask that we be given privacy during this difficult time."

Emily is white, slim, approximately 5ft 4ins tall and has brown shoulder-length hair.

When she was last seen she was wearing a red jumper, with a dark chequered skirt and black tights.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 101.

Getting muddy for money

WOMEN across Oxfordshire are being encouraged to sign up for a new charity race which would see them battle through a 5km obstacle course in extremely muddy conditions.

Pretty Muddy is being held at Cornbury Park in Charlbury on June 27, and is raising money for Cancer Research UK.

It is the first time the race is being held, and in a similar vein to the charity's Race for Life, is open to women only.

Kelly Rumble, Cancer Research UK's Race for Life event manager, said: "We're so excited about launching Pretty Muddy in Cornbury Park.

"The event is taking place for the first time and we're calling on local ladies to sign up, and we've no doubt they've got the fighting spirit to get down and dirty in the bid to beat cancer sooner.

"With fire in their bellies and trainers at the ready, we know that Oxfordshire ladies are up for the challenge."

Organisers are hoping around 3,600 women will take part.

To sign up, go to raceforlife.cancerresearchuk.org.

Electric Park & Ride buses considered

NEW wireless electric double-decker buses that produce no emissions could be heading to the streets of Oxford as the city and county council look to upgrade their Park and Ride bus fleet.

The councils are working on a joint study into the project that could lead to the use of buses that can be charged wirelessly, and would be the first of their kind to operate in the UK.

They are looking at the feasibility of replacing existing buses with around 20 new electric vehicles, with the aim of having a trial running by the end of 2016.

Ian Hudspeth, leader of the county council, said: "Having a full electric Park and Ride fleet would be a great asset for Oxford.

"It will give businesses the confidence that we are open and ready for innovative transport solutions to enable the county to solve the challenges that the transport network faces."

John Tanner, city council board member for a Cleaner, Greener Oxford, added: "Projects like this will help us achieve our ambition of improving the city's air quality and creating a low carbon Oxford for everyone."

Councils HQ move to Milton Park

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

SOUTH Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse district councils are set to move to Milton Park, two months after a fire destroyed their former base in Crowmarsh Gifford.

The two councils will start moving into the new building at 135 Milton Park – previously home to IT company Research Machines – at the end of May.

It comes after an arson attack gutted their old base in Benson Lane in the early hours of January 15.

The move to Milton Park is expected to be a temporary measure while the councils await a report on how badly their Crowmarsh Gifford offices' structure has been affected.

It will determine if it would be cost-effective to rebuild on the same site, or whether the councils should look for a permanent home elsewhere.

John Cotton, leader of South Oxfordshire District Council, said: "We want to thank Research Machines and MEPC, who own Milton Park.

• The ruined council offices at Crowmarsh Gifford

"Without their help, we'd almost certainly still be looking for a suitable temporary home.

"Once the move is out of the way I'm looking forward to cracking on with finding a permanent home for the council."

Since the fire council staff have been working from home, as well as at the Vale's base at Abbey House in Abingdon.

Matthew Barber, leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, said: "The last couple of months have been quite tough for everybody.

"But once we've moved our staff will be able to settle down and work much more effectively, with a bit of normality to their working lives.

"Milton Park ticks all the boxes in terms of location and facilities and I'm sure it will serve us well over the coming years."

Andrew Main, 47, of Roke Marsh, has been charged with the arson on the council buildings, as well as at a funeral directors in Crowmarsh Gifford and a house in Roke Marsh, and is scheduled to appear at Oxford Crown Court on March 27.

Car stolen

LOWER HEYFORD: Police are appealing for witnesses after a silver Mitsubishi Shogun car was stolen from the driveway of a house in Station Road last Wednesday.

It was taken between 1am and 11am.

The car has the registration J337 OGV, and has a Cotswold Wildlife Park sticker in the window. Call 101.

Street fight

OXFORD: A 17-year-old boy has been arrested after three men were punched and kicked outside the KFC in Cornmarket Street on Saturday.

It happened at around 7.40pm, when a group of youths attacked three men following an argument.

Two of the victims suffered black eyes and were treated at hospital, while the third was uninjured.

The boy, from Oxford, was arrested on Sunday and has been bailed until April 23.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truthis that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

It is going up against the Robin, Blackbird, Blue Tit, Wren, Mute Swan, Barn Owl, Puffin, Kingfisher and Hen Harrier for the title.

Voting closes on May 7. Go to votenationalbird.com.

New market

DIDCOT: A French market is coming to Didcot's Orchard Centre for the first time tomorrow and on Saturday.

Traders from Normandy will have a range of produce on offer, including breads, cheeses, olives, and even handbags and music.

Cash stolen

KENNINGTON: Police are linking two burglaries that took place in the village last week.

The first was in Upper Road between 10pm last Wednesday and 6am the next day, which saw cash stolen from the house and from two cars outside.

And the second was at a house on Bagley Close, when thieves took cash from a wallet on the dining room table between 10.15pm and 5.20am.

Canal path reopens after £132k upgrade

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

• The towpath was reopened last week

A £132,000 refurbishment of part of Oxford's canal towpath has reopened after it was unveiled by the city council last Thursday.

The path between Walton Well Road and Aristotle Lane has been upgraded and resurfaced to make it more suitable for walkers and cyclists.

It is part of the council's 'Oxford Cycle City' scheme to encourage more people to get on their bikes, and was funded by them, Oxfordshire County Council and the Canal and River Trust.

John Tanner, the city council's board member for a Cleaner, Greener Oxford, said: "We want to see more people out walking and on their bikes in Oxford, getting fit, reducing the numbers of cars on the road and cutting carbon emissions.

"This is a key stretch of the canal towpath and the upgrade will encourage lots more people to enjoy the tranquillity of this part of Oxford."

The city council put £72,000 towards the project, with £30,000 contributions coming from the county council and Canal and River Trust.

David Nimmo Smith, the county council's cabinet member for environment, said: "We welcome this improvement and would encourage more people to get on their bikes.

"With expansions to the OxonBike scheme, improvements at The Plain roundabout and Frideswide Square, the council are investing to improve cycling in and around Oxford."

The Canal and River Trust carried out the work, with the final additions due to be finished by the end of the week.

John Best from the trust said: "Canal towpaths provide wonderful green routes,

"Now that this work is finished I hope local people will take the opportunity to step out onto the towpath and discover the secret delights of the Oxford Canal."

Six arrested from county in drugs raid

FIVE people from Didcot and another one from Oxford have been arrested as part of a drugs investigation following a number of search warrants across southern England last Wednesday.

A 46-year-old man from Didcot was arrested on suspicion of conspiracy to supply class A drugs, while three men aged 51, 32 and 38 were arrested on suspicion with intent to supply.

The fifth Didcot arrest – a 46-year-old woman – was on suspicion of money laundering, while a 44-year-old man from Oxford was arrested on suspicion of being involved in the supply of class A drugs.

Six other people, from Tilehurst, Newbury, Southend-on-Sea and Peckham, were also arrested.

Supt Rory Freeman said: "More than 100 officers have been involved in the operation, which has involved carrying out warrants to target the supply of drugs within communities across the Thames Valley.

"Drugs cause untold misery to those who are affected by them and the organised supply often feed other areas of criminality. Thames Valley Police will not tolerate the supply of drugs."

Thieves sought

NORTH HINKSEY: Electrical items were stolen and a window smashed in a burglary at a house in Finmore Road last Wednesday.

Between 12.45pm and 3.30pm, thieves used a brick to smash a rear patio door window to break into the house before stealing the items.

Big clean-up

OXFORD: The city council's Cleaner, Greener campaign is in Cutteslowe until next week, with residents being encouraged to help out with cleaning up the area.

A community litter pick is being held on March 28 from Cutteslowe Community Centre, while council workers will also be tackling dog fouling and recycling issues during the week.

Boat fire

OXFORD: Fire crews were called after a boat caught fire on the waterway near William Lucy Way last Wednesday.

One person on the boat suffered burns and was treated on the scene, while the boat was heavily damaged.

Watch manager Paul Harding said: "This shows that it's important wherever you call home to make sure you have a working smoke alarm."

Home Office pulls plug on Campsfield expansion

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

CONTROVERSIAL plans to expand the Campsfield House detention centre in Kidlington have been withdrawn following a review by the Home Office.

Proposals had been submitted to Cherwell District Council to construct a new building on the site to accommodate an extra 290 detainees – roughly double the current number.

It came amid animosity towards the plans from nearby residents and campaigners, with many believing there was no need to expand the site.

Kidlington's MP Nicola Blackwood was also against the plans, and wrote to the Home Secretary Theresa May last week urging her to withdraw the application.

She said: "Finally common sense prevails, and I am delighted that the Home Secretary is withdrawing the planning application.

"Not only has the Home Secretary withdrawn the application, she has ordered her department to undertake a wider review in future requirements of the detention centre."

The plans had been set to go before Cherwell District Council's planning committee this afternoon.

They had previously been deferred after a legal challenge from the Stop Campsfield Expansion campaign group, who said at the time the recommendation for approval was "plainly wrong in law".

Carol Day of Leigh Day solicitors, who are acting for Stop Campsfield Expansion, said: "This is the right decision and very good news."

A statement from the Home Office said: "An independent review of detainees' welfare by the former prisons ombudsman Stephen Shaw, commissioned last month, will report back later this year.

"The Home Office is also giving further consideration to the future requirements of the detention estate, including its capacity and location."

MP's Corner

Ed Vaizey
MP for Wantage and Didcot

Celebrating the area's charities

AS the general election looms, I have been reflecting on what an honour it has been to serve the Wantage and Didcot constituency over the past 10 years.

One of the most fantastic aspects of my role as your MP is meeting so many dedicated volunteers and getting involved in some of the great causes in the constituency.

I am incredibly proud to have become president of SUDEP Action, a charity based in Wantage, which is working towards the prevention of sudden death in epilepsy.

This charity was set up by local resident Jane Hanna and provides information and support for the bereaved.

Friends of OSCAR is a national charity, based in Didcot, of which I am also a recent patron.

This charity helps children, and their families, when they are diagnosed with brain or spinal tumours.

Another very worthy cause that I have become involved in is Mission Motorsport.

The aim of this national charity, based near Wantage, is to aid the recovery and rehabilitation of those affected by military operations by providing opportunities through motorsport.

Not only do they provide a support network but focus on training and direct vocational skills to help those affected to get back into the workplace.

These are just a few examples of the many good causes I have encountered and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helps to make this constituency such a wonderful place to live.

City to play a part in finding diabetes cure

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD has been chosen as the home of one of 15 UK centres to be set up for "ground-breaking" research that could lead to a cure for Type 1 diabetes.

Paid for through a £4.4million investment from Diabetes UK, the centres will be aiming towards producing the first working vaccines within the next 10 years.

It will be based at the Oxford Centre for Diabetes, Endocrinology and Metabolism at the John Radcliffe Hospital, where health workers will be trained to work on the new vaccines.

While the vaccines could help delay or prevent Type 1 diabetes in those at high risk, it is also thought that it will act as an important step in finding a cure for the condition.

Dr Alasdair Rankin, Diabetes UK's director of research, said: "This research is hugely exciting because it has the potential to transform the lives of hundreds of thousands of people living with Type 1 diabetes, as well as leading us towards a longed-for cure.

"Managing diabetes is a daily struggle and too many people develop devastating health complications or die before their time.

"These studies will take us a long way towards changing that – bringing us closer to preventing and ultimately curing the condition."

Results from the first studies of more than 6,000 treatments are expected within four years, while the first vaccines could be delivered to patients within a decade.

Dr Rankin added: "None of this will be easy or happen overnight.

"The first vaccines will probably help people to delay the onset of Type 1 diabetes rather than preventing entirely.

"But even this would help to reduce the risk of serious complications, such as stroke, blindness and heart attacks.

"In the longer term, a fully effective vaccine would be represent a huge medical breakthrough and could transform the lives of people with Type 1 diabetes."

Money had been given to Diabetes UK from supermarket giant Tesco and fellow diabetes charity JDRF.

Karen Addington, chief executive of JDRF, said: "We are thrilled to collaborate with Diabetes UK with support from Tesco on this important research.

"A child diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes at the age of five faces up to 19,000 injections and 50,000 finger pricks by the time they are 18.

She continued: "Our major search for a vaccine takes place within a global push, by some of the world's very best scientists, to consign this life-threatening condition to history."

Chief constable preferred candidate chosen by PCC

FRANCIS Habgood has been named as the preferred candidate to take over as chief constable of Thames Valley Police when Sara Thornton leaves at the end of the month.

Police and crime commissioner (PCC) Anthony Stansfeld has selected Francis Habgood, the current deputy chief constable, as his preferred appointment to the role.

A confirmation hearing will be held by the police on March 27, where a final decision will be made.

• Francis Habgood

DCC Habgood said: "I am absolutely delighted to have been chosen as the preferred candidate for the next chief constable of Thames Valley.

"It will be an honour and privilege to lead the officers, staff and volunteers in the work to keep our communities safe."

Mr Stansfeld added: "I am delighted to announce that Francis Habgood is my preferred candidate to be appointed as the next chief constable for Thames Valley Police.

"He has done an excellent job as deputy chief constable and I look forward to working with him in the future."

Current chief constable Sara Thornton is leaving to take up a new post as leader of the National Police Chiefs' Council from the start of April.

Landmark apprentice Paige meets Cabinet

AN ABINGDON and Witney College student who last year was named as the two millionth apprentice was invited to speak to the Cabinet last week.

Paige McConville, 16, an engineering apprentice from Didcot, spoke to Prime Minister David Cameron and the rest of the Cabinet last Tuesday about her experience of apprenticeships.

She, along with fellow visiting apprentice Pallavi Boppana, suggested ways on how the government could increase awareness of apprenticeships as an entry point into a chosen career.

"It was a fantastic experience and great to share my view of apprenticeships at such a high profile event," said Paige.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

"A lot of people are surprised that I'm an engineer, but it shouldn't matter that I'm a girl.

"I'm gaining important skills through my apprenticeship and am convincing my friends and tutors that apprenticeships offer a great career for boys and girls.

"It was really exciting to tell the Cabinet about my experience."

• Paige (centre) speaks to the Cabinet about apprenticeships

Paige was named in December as the two millionth apprentice since the start of the current government in 2010.

Business Secretary Vince Cable came to the college's Abingdon campus at the time to make the announcement, and was also present at the Cabinet meeting last week.

He said: "These two young apprentices made an impressive and powerful case to Cabinet about the attractions of an apprenticeship over an academic route into employment.

"They were highly articulate and real ambassadors for women pursuing successful careers in science and engineering."

Teresa Kelly, principal of Abingdon and Witney College, added: "We have invested significantly in growing our apprenticeship provision in order to meet the skills needs of our local and regional employers."

She added: "Paige is a fantastic example of a hardworking and dedicated apprentice and we were delighted to have her represent the college at such a prestigious meeting."

Cutting the cost of energy

THE cost of oil and gas has plummeted over the last few months as global supplies have outstripped demand, and the Big Six energy companies are raking in the profits.

But for the consumer, prices have hardly come down at all. Gas bills are down by between one and five per cent, and electricity prices haven't fallen.

These developments are yet further evidence of the chronic over-charging that has taken place as the global banking crisis has receded.

The UK energy market is broken, with the highest prices in Europe for our gas and electricity.

A new Labour government after the May general election will freeze energy bills so that they can only go down and not up until 2017.

Oxford City Council has launched a long term programme aimed at improving the thermal efficiency of all our Council owned homes so that future increases in the costs of energy will be more affordable for our tenants.

Starting this year, there will be a comprehensive energy audit for all our homes that will lead onto a plan to install solar panels on suitable properties and to other energy saving modifications such as insulation.

We face a global climate crisis and a finite amount of fossil fuel; national and local government, as well as every citizen owes it to future generations to get to grips with reducing our demand for fossil fuel based energy and to making modern living patterns sustainable.

News Bites

Police search

OXFORD: Police have released an image of a man they want to speak to in connection with a shoplifiting incident at the Next store at Oxford Retail Park in Cowley.

It happened at 12.30pm on February 21 when a man entered the shop and picked out a pair of jeans, which he then concealed in a bag and left without paying.

The image was released by police last Thursday.

Call the police non-emergency number 101 with information.

Nest building

FRILFORD: Millets Falconry Centre is holding a nest building challenge on March 28 and 29.

Visitors are being invited to create their own masterpiece nest from the materials provided, with a VIP day experience worth £500 going to the best creation.

And for every five nests that are built over the weekend, the centre will build a barn owl or kestrel nest box around the Millets Farm site.

Use Your Pedal Power For Against Breast Cancer!

AGAINST Breast Cancer is appealing for cyclists to take part in the Classic Oxfordshire Cycle Sponsored Bike Ride. Taking place on Sunday 3rd May from Harwell Science Park the ride aims to raise funds for the charity's breast cancer research.

CLOX, (as it's locally become known), has become a key fixture on the annual cycling calendar. Now in its 10th year this is a fabulous start to the cycling season and a great opportunity to explore Oxfordshire's stunning countryside in the Spring.

Everyone is welcome - from families with children to experienced sportive enthusiasts - riders are able to choose between 30, 60, 75 or even 100 mile routes. The 12 mile Great Escape ride provides a gentle family friendly alternative.

Wendy Taylor Hill, Director of Against Breast Cancer said 'This is a great day out and a fantastic ride around the local towns and villages of Oxfordshire. There is always a wonderful atmosphere! Sponsorship raised from CLOX goes directly to the charity to fund the ground breaking research to improve detection and increase survival after breast cancer diagnosis.

WIN an INSURGENT Bluetooth Wireless Activity tracker

March 19th sees the release of INSURGENT, the next gripping action-adventure in Veronica Roth's blockbuster Divergent Series franchise, starring Shailene Woodley, Theo James, Kate Winslet, Miles Teller and Ansel Elgort.

After being exposed as Divergents—people who don't fit neatly into one of the five societal classifications or "factions"—Tris (Shailene Woodley) and Four (Theo James) find themselves on the run from Jeanine (Kate Winslet), the power-hungry leader of the Erudite faction.

As the traitorous Dauntless troops under Jeanine's command prowl the ruins of dystopian Chicago rounding up Divergents, Tris and Four traverse the city hoping to find allies among the Amity, Candor, Abnegation and Dauntless factions—as well as the rebellious and impoverished mass of Factionless. Although heartsick and guilt-ridden over the violent deaths of her family and friends, Tris tries to uncover the secret her parents sacrificed their lives to protect - the very secret that explains why Jeanine will stop at nothing to capture her. Desperate to avoid causing pain to any more of her loved ones, Tris faces her darkest fears in a series of near-impossible challenges as she seeks to unlock the truth about the past, and ultimately the future, of their world.

From 'street hawker' to restaurant entrepreneur...

Authentic Thai street food restaurant, Thaikhun, to open in Oxford

THAI Leisure Group (TLG) which currently operates 11 restaurants and four cocktail bars across the north of England and Scotland is to launch its first restaurant in the city this May with the opening of Thaikhun. The restaurant brings its unique concept of Thai street dining direct from the food stalls of Bangkok, serving fresh healthy dishes created by an original Bangkok "street hawker" turned business entrepreneur, Kim Kaewkraikhot

The new site in Oxford signals an expansion into the south of the country which is new territory for the brand. The first two Thaikhun restaurants launched last summer and are proving hugely successful, occupying prime sites at Spinningfields in Manchester and Union Square in Aberdeen. The restaurant, taking over the site of the former Cleaver restaurant, will create up to 70 new jobs.

Owner and Chef Director, Kim Kaewkraikhot, commented on her new opening: "We are so happy to open in Oxford and be able to invite local diners to experience authentic, Thai eating just as you can on the streets of Bangkok. From my recipes which won me awards in Bangkok, to my partner Martin's favourite dish - Khao Ka Moo(five-spiced pork on rice), every dish is packed full with flavours and has a special story behind it, we can't wait to see the people of Oxford enjoying their trip to Bangkok, without leaving the UK.

Our love and tribute to my homeland doesn't stop in my kitchen, as we wanted to truly bring Thailand direct to the Oxford! So, Martin and I have lovingly handselected most of the Oxford décor from a trip to Thailand earlier this year. This means when you come to Thaikhun you can be instantly transported back to my beautiful country as you eat!"

TLG which started life in Leeds and has recently celebrated 10 years in the City is co-owned by Martin Stead and Kim Kaewraikhot, who is also chef director. The business, which has reported like for like sales growth of 9% over the last year, is one of the fastest growing in its sector. With current turnover, annualised on existing sites of £26m and serving around 26,000 customers per week, TLG is already the leading Thai restaurant brand outside London... and it has its sights on that too.

...But Naturally Cautious

KNOWN for his loud voice and arrow shaped goatee beard, comedian Andy Parsons will be embracing the Oxford Playhouse on March 25.

The funnyman, who is known for appearing on the BBC2 panel show 'Mock the Week', comes to the Beaumont Street theatre as part of his 'Live and Unleashed - But Naturally Cautious' UK tour, which has been split into two different sections.

"The show starts off with me deconstructing myself," Andy said.

"Over the course of the first half, I look at all the things I could possibly be good at and systematically rule them all out.

"The last thing I think I'm good at is driving, but I read recently 90 per cent of us think we're in the top 10 per cent of drivers, so I'm probably rubbish at that as well."

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

He added: "The second half is about trying to build myself back up through communal spirit, so that we end on a high!"

Originally aiming to pursue a career in law, the 47-year-old from Dorset studied the subject at Christ's College in Cambridge, where he met Henry Naylor.

The two soon became good friends and decided to form a double act, where they toured with the National Student Theatre Company twice, and the Cambridge University dramatic club, 'Floodlights'.

However, after graduating, Andy got a job working as a legal clerk on a case at the Greenock shipyards, which he described as 'the most tedious thing I'd ever done'.

His first writing job was for the Spitting Image - a satirical puppet show where he worked as a writer before hitting 'Mock the Week' as one of the most familiar panellists.

He is now regarded as one of the most successful British comedians today, with four sell-out national tours and three DVD releases.

"I love the buzz of live comedy," Andy revealed.

"You don't have a TV producer or editor and the audience will get something unrepeatable.

"What happens in that theatre, stays in that theatre."

He added: "A couple of years ago, a bloke wanted to propose to his girlfriend on stage.

"That's an extreme example, but there are always times like that when ceilings collapse, the technology fails or there's a fire alarm in the middle of the show.

"People like the sense that on the night, they are seeing something which will never happen again."

When the show at the Beaumont Street theatre is over, Andy will travel not far north to perform at The Theatre in Chipping Norton on March 26.

Tickets cost from £14 to £16 for the Oxford Playhouse show.

It starts at 7.30pm,and is suitable for anyone over the age of 15.

Derren Brown: the magic man in town

PREPARE to be bamboozled when hypnotist, trickster and illusionist Derren Brown visits Oxford's New Theatre next week.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The 44-year old Londoner is at the George Street theatre from March 23 to 28 with his 'Miracle' tour - his 13th year on the road.

Derren picked up high praise during last year's 'Infamous' tour, but the magician revealed he feels 'no pressure' to shoot for bigger and better.

"If you try to 'top' your previous work all the time, you just go mad and the work suffers," he said.

"It's important to keep rooted in the present – What do I feel is worthwhile? What do I want to say? What would be fun and amazing for a few thousand people trapped in a room with me? – while keeping an eye out for what you've done before, so you're not repeating yourself untowardly.

"Other than that the brief is always the same: overdeliver."

After graduating from Bristol University with a degree in Law and German, Derren's breakthrough arrived in 1999 from an offering by Channel 4 to put a TV show together.

He came up with, 'Derren Brown: Mind Control", which first aired in December 2000 and became an instant success.

Since then, he has become a TV regular and released four books, including 'Tricks of the Mind' in 2006.

The entertainer - whose hobbies on the side include painting and photography - is planning a new book on happiness in the near future.

"I've always had an interest in photography but it was the Leica camera I bought that changed everything," Derren said.

"Once I got going, my experience of being out and about on the street changed from one of keeping my head down to feeling open, connected and very interested in everyone and everything. That's a very lovely feeling."

Tickets for his Oxford performance cost from £38.90 to £51.40.

The shows all start at 7.30pm.

Alan Carr

CHATTY man Alan Carr will be at Oxford's New Theatre on April 9 and May 7.

The comedian comes to the Oxford theatre with his 'Yap, Yap, Yap!' tour.

The show, at the George Street theatre, costs £33.90.

Tickets are selling fast.

Outings show

A SHOW that tackles coming out as gay will be shown at the Oxford Playhouse on March 24.

'Outings' has been inspired by recent high-profile 'comings out' from the likes of Tom Daley and Ellen Page.

It is suitable for anyone over 16, and tickets start from £11.

The show at the Beaumont Street theatre starts at 7.30pm.

Visit oxfordplayhouse.com for more information.

Classical-punk with attitude

YOU could be mistaken for thinking Halloween has come around already when The Tiger Lillies step on stage at the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The Grammy-nominated group mixes the classical sound of pre-war Berlin with punk - and will bring the uncommon blend to the Station Road venue tomorrow, March 20, for their show 'The Very Worst of The Tiger Lillies'.

The combination of two completely different genres of music has proven a hit which has steamrollered them though a quarter of a century - the group celebrated their 25th anniversary last year.

"The name comes from a painting that was hanging above my bed when I started the band," founder Martyn Jacques told the Oxfordshire Guardian.

"I found our first drummer and bass player (Adrian Huge and Phil Butcher) through an ad in classified magazine Loot.

"Adrian was the only one that phoned me and Phil was his friend."

Since their formation back in 1989, the group have gone on to release 35 albums, which includes Grammy-nominated 'The Gorey End', put up for 'Best Classical Crossover Album'.

But it has not always been smooth sailing - the threesome have been criticised in the past for their controversial lyrics.

Something that Martyn seems to take on the chin.

"Our songs are definitely not easy-listening," he said.

"They are provoking, vulgar, sad and they talk of things we generally avoid talking about or even think of.

"I've shocked my audiences and even though I've been criticised for that, I still think its the only way to make people think for themselves."

He added: "I always improvise as far as set lists go, because there is a different audience, different vibe, different songs and so on.

"It's really up to the audience to have a good time.

"If they yawn or, even worse, chat away to their friends during the gig... I will make them regret it."

• The Tiger Lillies (left to right) Adrian Stout, Martyn Jacques and Mike Pickering (picture by Andry Kezzyn)

The show, which starts at 8pm, is suitable for anyone over the age of 16.

Tickets cost £19.

Martyn said: "Expect lots of our new songs with some of them still unreleased from our upcoming album, 'Songs from the Gutter' as well as songs from our latest shows.

"Also, we'll have some of the so called 'Tiger Lillies hits' from our early years."

THE BARRON KNIGHTS
"Probably the most entertaining group to come out of the 60's and 70's. Their musicianship,their harmonies and of course their humour makes them what their peers call them 'The Guvnors'. They are supremely talented, a showbiz phenomenon and the best tonic the N.H.S. could give the population. They are the only group to have toured with the Beatles and twice with the Rolling Stones. A show not to be missed.
Over 300 shows at the London Palladium. A performance at Buckingham Palace.
The Barron Knights inspired Bill Wyman to buy a Guitar back in 1961.
You'll be rockin and laughing as well as rolling. Apart from the old favourites like call Up The Groups they play their inimitable version of the William Tell Overture and their Flamenco party piece Malaguana. Their parody of Killer Queen about 'will Camilla be Queen?' and the hilarious take on of 'Windmills of your Mind' about what happens to your body as you get older. Don't miss this one. You will walk out the theatre with happy memories."

WIN tickets to see Blue in Oxford!

THEY shot to fame in 2001 with their debut single All Rise, have scored three number one album, collaborated with Elton John and Stevie Wonder and represented the UK at the 2011 Eurovision Song Contest.

Now Blue are back and touring the country. And we have teamed up with the New Theatre Oxford to offer one reader the chance to win a pair of tickets to see the show on April 7.

The affable quartet quickly ascended to the top of the charts with three number 1 albums, scored highly-respectable collaborations with Elton John and Stevie Wonder, and even represented the UK in 2011 at the Eurovision Song Contest.

Say what you will about Blue, but no matter how many times they've been knocked down, they always come back stronger. They are the best of friends and with over a decade in the music industry, the boys know the game and how to play it well.

Despite each member diving into solo projects in TV and stage, music has never been far from their hearts. In the last year alone, Blue has played over 170 shows and events – and the next 12 months is set to be even bigger.

2015 will see Blue hitting the screens as they launch their new ITV show. The reality series will follow the trials and tribulations of Blue as they attempt to run a bar in Ibiza.

Closing date:
Wednesday, April 1, 2015

Blue's last album, Roulette, saw them collaborate with Grammy-winning producer RedOne, who has crafted global hits for Lady Gaga and Nicki Minaj. The new album is set to reignite the band's signature style of soaring emotional ballads and energetic pop productions.

To buy tickets, call 0844 871 3020, log on to www.atgtickets.com/oxford (phone and internet bookings subject to booking/transaction fee)or visit the box office.

For bookings of 10 or more, or for Equal Access bookings, please call our dedicated in-house team on 0844 871 3040.

WIN TICKETS

We have one pair of tickets for the show on April 7, to be in with a chance on winning just answer the following simple question.

TRY ORIENTEERING AT SHOTOVER COUNTRY PARK
"If you fancy a new outdoor activity for all the family, why not give orienteering a go. This event is organised by Thames Valley Orienteering Club and it's ideal for families and children. There will be several courses and plenty of help on hand for newcomers. There will be six courses to choose from, from 1km up to 5km, taking around 30-75 mins to complete, plus a special string course for very young children, where they follow a line of string to find fun characters. If you've never tried orienteering before, it's a bit like a treasure hunt to find a series of checkpoints around your chosen course. They're marked by flags on the ground and you register each one with an electronic timing chip to record your progress, and prove you've been to them! The challenge arises by there being no set route between the checkpoints and you have to choose your own way, using a detailed orienteering map of the park. This is part of a series of four events around Oxford:
Saturday 14 February - Hill End
Saturday 14 March - Cutteslowe Park
Saturday 11 April - Shotover Country Park
Saturday 16 May - University Parks
It's great fun and the events are supported by Oxford City Council and Up and Running in Oxford, who have supplied some great prizes. Come along any time between 10.00am to 11.30am and don't forget your sense of adventure! The cost is £6 per family group, or £2 for solo juniors.

Luther actor gives his take on the brand new XE model

Idris tests new Jaguar

LAST month, Jaguar launched the final film in a series of short clips created to document Idris Elba's epic road trip from London to Berlin, in the brand new Jaguar XE 2.0-litre i4 163PS diesel.

Pushing the Jaguar XE's acclaimed technology and economical credentials to the limit, the journey, which lasted over 750 miles, ended with an outstanding fuel economy figure of 65mpg, despite tough winter driving conditions and the car being fitted with winter tyres.

Along the route, Idris stopped at the F1 race circuit in Spa, Belgium, where he met Formula One racing legend Martin Brundle for some high speed dynamic driving in the Jaguar XE S 3.0-litre petrol 340PS.

Three days and 750 miles later, Idris arrived at the German capital Berlin to attend an exclusive Jaguar party celebrating the launch of the XE, where

REVIEW: Jaguar XE
By James Richings

he skillfully delivered the sports saloon directly onto the stage in front of 200 excitable VIP guests.

He then treated the party to a very special DJ set.

"I had a great time driving the Jaguar XE in some pretty bad weather conditions - the highlight for me was hammering it round Spa with the legendary Martin Brundle," the 42-year old said.

"The car was a real head turner and I made sure I pushed it hard all the way to Berlin - so the most surprising thing was the efficiency, averaging 65mpg.

"I also loved the in-car tech as I'm a big fan of gadgets, and the XE was fully loaded in that respect too.

"I even planned my DJ set list as I drove," he added.

The XE is powered by a range of four-and six-cylinder petrol and diesel engines, offering a blend of performance, refinement and efficiency from 99g/km CO2 to 250km/h.

"I've long been a fan of Jaguar and its incredible sporting heritage," the 'Luther' actor revealed.

"I like to push what I do and explore different areas of my expertise and that's why this film project with Jaguar really appealed."

The new XE also offers a vast set of brand new technology which has been designed to keep drivers informed and entertained when driving, making every journey even more of an experience.

Showcase your style with the Vauxhall ADAM at Eden Vauxhall

VAUXHALL retailer Eden Vauxhall is encouraging drivers to showcase their style with Vauxhall's customisable city car; ADAM

ADAM is Vauxhall's first-ever personalised urban-chic four-seater, which lets drivers set the trend. It's fun, funky, fashionable and all about personalisation.

ADAM comes in a choice of trims – JAM (fashionable /colourful), GLAM (elegant/sophisticated) and SLAM (racy/sporty) – as well as a range of wheel designs, interior trims and body colours. Plus, with colour names like 'Saturday White Fever', 'James Blonde', 'Purple Fiction' and 'Papa Don't Peach', there's never been a more exciting way for owners to portray their inner style.

For even greater choice, the rugged ADAM ROCKS, open-top ADAM ROCKS AIR and performance-version ADAM GRAND SLAM trims also complement the impressive portfolio.

Mike Earle, General Manager at the retailer site in Newbury comments: "The Vauxhall ADAM can be customised in over a million different ways. Drivers who are keen to showcase their style and present their personality on the road can chose every detail of their ADAM and inject so much of their character into the design of their chosen trim. As such, we are inviting fun-loving, fashion-conscious drivers to become mad about the boy and consider the benefits of owning a Vauxhall ADAM."

To make ADAM more appealing to drivers, until 6 April 2015, customers aged between 21-75 could benefit from free insurance for an entire year when they purchase a new Vauxhall ADAM (excluding GRAND SLAM) via one of two specific finance packages (please contact retailer for details).

In addition, new ADAM customers aged between 18 and 20 years could be insured for just £99 for an entire year when they purchase a new Vauxhall ADAM (excluding GRAND SLAM) via one of the same two specific finance packages (please contact retailer for details) and have a Telematics box fitted. 18 – 20 year old drivers could also earn their premium back for driving well.

To be eligible, drivers need to have held a driving license for over a year.

To find out more about the Vauxhall ADAM, and for full details of the insurance offers, eligibility, terms and conditions, please contact Eden Vauxhall online at www.edenvauxhall.co.uk.

U's slump to defeat at home to basement side

By Matthew Bruce
news@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORD United dropped back to within six points of the Sky Bet League 2 relegation zone following a disappointing 2-0 home defeat to bottom side Hartlepool United on Tuesday.

The U's struggled to create any openings against their relegation-threatened visitors and paid the price shortly after the half-hour mark as Ryan Bird fired the away side in front.

Matters got worse early in the second half when referee Patrick Miller awarded the visitors a soft penalty for a handball by Johnny Mullins.

Goalkeeper Ryan Clarke got down well to save Bird's spot-kick, but couldn't prevent Neil Austin from doubling the deficit on the rebound.

United had no response and failed to create any chances of note.

The only significant incident in the latter stages of the match was when the referee fell awkwardly and had to be stretchered off.

The result meant United have failed to register on the scoresheet in more than 180 minutes of competitive football, following a goalless draw at home to Plymouth Argyle on Saturday.

Striker Patrick Hoban, still searching for his first goal after signing from League of Ireland champions Dundalk in November, was presented two golden opportunities to score against Argyle, but blazed both over the bar.

It was a similar story on Tuesday evening as United missed several big chances, but head coach Michael Appleton felt it was poor luck rather than poor finishing which had cost his side.

"We've had over 20 opportunities tonight and that just sums it up as a night," he told the club.

"I don't know how many blocks they've put in to stop the ball going in the goal and the goalkeeper seemed to have another good night, which was a symptom of a lot of the stuff that was going on earlier in the season.

"It's frustrating, but we move on."

Defender Johnny Mullins said Oxford now have to put the disappointment behind them to focus on making amends on Saturday, when they travel to promotion-chasing Shrewsbury Town.

He said: "We're disappointed, but we've got move on.

"Saturday soon comes around and it's a game that has already got a lot of people looking forward to it."

Rowland Phillips is new Exiles head coach

ROWLAND Phillips admitted he felt proud to have been appointed as the man in charge of Aviva Premiership strugglers London Welsh.

Phillips took over from Justin Burnell on Monday, with his main task being to pick up a first competitive victory of the season.

"I am very proud to be leading the coaching of this great club," he said.

"It's been a very tough season in the Premiership trying to play with a squad built on an uneven financial playing field.

"But the boys are determined to rescue something from this season."

Phillips was appointed defence coach for the Exiles in November last year.

He had previously spent two seasons with the club as a player from 1997 to 1999, being named club captain.

Phillips earned 10 caps as a back row forward for the Welsh national side in rugby union, also representing Wales and Great Britain in rugby league.

And as a coach, he also led Neath to four consecutive Welsh Premiership victories from 2003.

City draw at league leaders

OXFORD City drew 2-2 away to Vanarama Conference North leaders Barrow, despite leading twice.

Lee Henderson put City into an early lead in Cumbria when he leapt highest to head home Tom Winters' corner at the back post.

But the home side levelled when Andy Cook beat the offside trap, racing onto a simple headed ball through to fire past the unguarded goalkeeper.

Cook could have put the home side ahead on the stroke of half-time when he again found himself in space in front of goal, but City keeper Salva de la Cruz stretched out an arm to rob him of the ball, before blocking his follow-up attempt.

City got themselves in front for a second time in the second half, Winters breaking quickly up the left wing before crossing for Marlon Jackson to hammer home.

And Jackson could have doubled the advantage just minutes later when another Winters cross found him unmarked at the back post, but he sliced his shot wide with the goal gaping.

Instead it was Barrow who struck next, equalising for a second time when Danny Livesey headed a corner back across the box for captain Simon Grand to prod in.

City host in-form Bradford Park Avenue on Saturday afternoon, with the side looking to reduce the four-point gap to the coveted play-off positions.

Wantage edge closer to safety after win

WANTAGE Town extended their buffer over the Southern League Division 1 South & West relegation zone to eight points with a big 4-0 win over relegation rivals Bishops Cleeve on Saturday.

George Reid fired the visitors into the lead in the 25th minute, cutting inside from the left wing and striking sweetly past the despairing dive of goalkeeper Harry Reynolds.

And the Alfredians doubled their advantage with a Ben Whitehead penalty after Nicholas Thorne had been felled in the box.

Thorne got himself on the scoresheet after the break, latching onto an incisive through ball from Sam Barder before slotting past the helpless goalkeeper.

And the fourth came in spectacular fashion shortly before the end, when James Glover's 35-yard volley flew into the top corner, giving Reynolds no chance.

The Freds entertain promotion-chasing Stratford Town on Saturday

Promotion looms for triumphant Hawks

HENLEY Hawks edged closer to the National 2 South title with a 28-13 win at Redruth.

Two James Comben penalties and a try from Dave Clements gave the Hawks an 11-3 lead at half-time, but they found themselves pegged back by Kyle Marriot's drive early in the second half.

But Jake Randall restored Henley's advantage and a penalty try 15 minutes from time sealed the win.

Chinnor were beaten 35-14 at Taunton Titans, despite a converted try from Jake Olley giving them an early lead.

It proved shortlived, however, as the hosts soon seized control with a penalty try and further scores from Tom Popham, Lewis Webb and Jack Claydon.

By the time Junior Fatialofa crossed for Chinnor it was too late to salvage the match.

In National 3 South West, Oxford Harlequins were subjected to a nine-try 56-0 defeat at Hornets.

Blue Boar were crowned Oxfordshire County Shield winners with a 21-15 victory over Wheatley at Iffley Road.

In the South West 1 East, Witney and Grove had the weekend off. Both are back in action on Saturday, as Witney travel to Leighton Buzzard while Grove make the trip to Maidenhead.

Burnell quits as Exiles head coach after tough season

• Justin Burnell has departed London Welsh after 21 months as head coach

JUSTIN Burnell has parted ways with London Welsh after failing to avoid defeat from 28 matches this season.

Burnell took over as head coach at the Exiles in June 2013 and guided the club to promotion from the Greene King IPA Championship at the first attempt.

However, faced with a £2million funding disadvantage over their Aviva Premiership rivals he was unable to make Welsh competitive, despite signing 26 players during the off-season.

Welsh could be relegated before the end of the month if they fail to beat Bath on March 29th, requiring bonus point wins in each of their last five matches to give themselves a chance of survival.

In a statement, chairman Bleddyn Phillips acknowledged Burnell had faced a difficult task to keep Welsh up this season.

He said: "As chairman, I would like to add my sincere thanks and best wishes to Justin and his family for the future.

"The harsh reality is that the club has had a mountain to climb in terms of now well documented challenges on the financial and structural regime presently in place in Premiership rugby which any coach or club would, to put it mildly, find daunting.

"And we must not forget the tremendous success we achieved last season in winning again the Championship, against all odds, under his coaching leadership."

Rowland Phillips has been appointed as the new boss.

Historic Gold Cup triumph for novice Coneygree in Cheltenham

CONEYGREE made history on Friday, becoming the first novice to win the Betfred Cheltenham Gold Cup for more than 40 years.

The eight-year-old gelding, which was trained by Mark Bradstock at his stables in Letcombe Bassett, saw off a late charge from Djakadam and Road to Riches to take victory by a length and a half.

In doing so he became the first novice since Captain Christy in 1974 to win the race.

The decision to enter Coneygree in the Gold Cup, instead of usual novice territory the RSA Chase, was only taken two days before the race.

But with weather conditions favouring Coneygree's explosive running style, jockey Nico de Boinville was able to ride him to a landmark victory, netting his owners £313,225 in prize money.

And Coneygree's all-the-way success has led the British Horseracing Authority to hand him a handicap mark of 172 – the highest given to any novice so far this century.

Sport Bites

Vital draw

ICE HOCKEY: A crucial point against Bracknell Hornets helped Oxford City Stars edge towards National Ice Hockey League 1 safety on Saturday.

Stars earned a 4-4 draw away at Bracknell to open up a three point gap to bottom side Cardiff Devils.

They are now just one point behind eighth-placed London Raiders with just two games of the season remaining.

Stars take on fellow league strugglers Cardiff Devils on Saturday, before taking on Chelmsford Chieftains in their last match on Sunday.

Season starts

FOOTBALL: Oxford United Women kick off the new Women's Super League 2 season tonight, as they host Watford at Abingdon United's Northcourt Road stadium.

Last year United finished ninth out of 10 teams, scoring 12 points from their 18 fixtures.

Manager Les Taylor said: "Results improved as the season went on and I think the experience will have done the girls a lot of good."

The match starts at 7.45pm.

Another point

HOCKEY: Oxford Hawks picked up another point in the South Hockey Premier League as they drew 3-3 with London Wayfarers on Saturday.

And there was joy for Oxford University, as they beat strugglers Lewes 5-2 following a hat-trick from Oliver Sugg.

Hawks sit sixth in the standings with 27 points, while University are two places further back on 20.

And the two sides will go up against each other on Saturday, with Hawks the hosts for the derby match.

Jamie Cook treble gets North Leigh back on track

NORTH Leigh kept their Southern League Division 1 South & West play-off hopes alive with a vital 3-2 victory over fellow promotion contenders Yate Town on Tuesday night.

Their prospects had been severely dented by a 3-1 defeat at Stratford Town on Saturday, but a hat-trick from Jamie Cook moved the Millers back to within six points of the play-offs with Tuesday's success.

Ardley United advanced to the semi-finals of the Hellenic League's Bluefin Insurance Challenge Cup with Saturday's 1-0 win at North Leigh United, with victory coming courtesy of an injury-time strike from John Gardner.

In the Premier Division, Thame United were beaten 2-0 at Flackwell Heath and Oxford City Nomads went down 3-1 at home to Ascot United.

Third-placed Kidlington were held to a third successive draw, with Tommy Castle's goal not enough to give them victory over Wootton Bassett Town as it finished 1-1.

On Tuesday, another late goal gave Ardley United a narrow 1-0 win as Troy Bryan struck 10 minutes from time to for a ninth straight victory.

AWFUL START FOR LOTUS F1

Drivers Maldonado and Grosjean both out on the first lap

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

ENSTONE-BASED Lotus F1 endured a dismal start to their 2015 Formula One campaign as neither of their drivers made it past the first lap in Australia on Sunday.

Pastor Maldonado was hit by Felipe Nasr's Sauber as the pair battled with the Ferrari of Kimi Raikkonen at the second corner.

The impact pitched the Venezuelan into a spin, eventually ending up backwards in the barriers to leave the car heavily damaged.

"It was quite a busy start, going into a narrow corner," said Maldonado. "I just felt a big hit on the track and didn't see what happened.

"It's disappointing because it was a great chance for us to have a great race.

"The pace of the car was looking much better than in qualifying, so looking forward we can learn from this race."

Romain Grosjean's race also ended early, as a loss of power meant he pulled into the pits on lap one to retire.

But despite the disappointing results for both drivers, Grosjean was optimistic that their 2015 car is a big step forward from their performance last year.

It comes as both drivers qualified inside the top-10.

He said: "It's not how you want to end your race, but we know the car is good and we're miles ahead of where we were last season.

"We have a good baseline with the E23 and a good engine, and also have new pieces that we are bringing over for the next races, so more performance is coming.

"The first race is always a bit of a tricky one, you never know what might happen and, unfortunately, it was bad luck for us.

"But it doesn't matter, I'm still very hopeful for the year."

Reigning champion Lewis Hamilton won the race, ahead of team-mate Nico Rosberg and the Ferrari of Sebastian Vettel.

The next race is in Malaysia on March 29.
